

CLEAN CALIFORNIA

Covelo Downtown

PROJECT OVERVIEW

This Clean California project will enhance downtown Covelo, a small community on State Route 162 in Mendocino County. The highway is the main street through this pocket-sized town that is part of the Round Valley Indian Reservation. The upgrades will improve safety for pedestrians, cyclists, and motorists, and add a pleasant downtown feel to the area.

Enhancements such as planters and tree-lined streets, decorative lighting, and tribal art representing the history and culture of the area will reduce litter and discourage graffiti. The improvements planned in this historically excluded, low-income area will add value and a sense of community representation.

Caltrans partnered with the Round Valley Tribes, residents and businesses, and the Mendocino Council of Governments to create improvements that serve the needs of the community.
