

Welcome to District 5's Postmile Publication Page

Produced by Headquarters, the Highway Sequence Listing is published annually from the Highway Inventory Database and lists highway segments, intersections and ramps. Since the postmiles in this document are to thousandths, it is the exact location of county lines, bridges, intersections and ramps and used for critical postmile location applications.

The following is some of the information provided in this report:

- Location: District, route, county, city and postmile
 - Highway group and facility type
 - Highway segment length
 - Equations
 - Description of bridges, intersections and ramps
-

The Postmile Book is a reference book where the postmiles are rounded to hundredths for non-critical applications. The Postmile Book list most of the inventory items found in the Sequence Listing.

There are two types of Postmile Books available, one electronic for your computer's desktop and one for easy two sided printing with all the blanks pages in place so you can tab your three ring binders.

The Postmile Book list items that are not found in the Sequence Listing like:

- Landmarks
- City Blocks
- Nicknames
- Maintenance areas and yards
- Vista Points

- Private Roads
- Relinquishments
- Route Breaks
- Secondary Streets associated with the intersection
- Signalized intersections

All this and more in an easy to reading format makes it quick to locate postmiles in the field and from your desktop.

The Postmile Book Index has links for printing the separate sections of the Postmile Book by county and route. Also you can keep your Postmile Book updated with the Postmile Index. Every section has a will have the latest update date posted with it.

The California Log of Bridges on State Highways is a listing of all bridges and other highway structures on California's State Highway System. Each structure is listed in the Log once for each state highway that is carried by or crosses under the structure. Within each district, the structures are listed by state highway route number and are sorted in driving order along each route. The structure entries are interspersed with miscellaneous descriptive information about each route.

The 2002 Highway Log is the most current and we are hoping that we will have a new log by the middle of 2016.

Notes:

For Santa Cruz County there is generally a difference between the actual postmile location and the location of the postmile markers in the field. These postmile markers have been in place since 1964 and the accident and highway data have been referenced to them. Due to this long history, the postmile markers will remain unchanged in the field and continue to be used as in the past.

Links:

District 05 Sequence Listing 2015

District 05 Postmile Book 2016 Print Copy

District 05 Postmile Book 2016 Desktop Copy

District 05 Postmile Book Index for Updates

District 05 Bridge Log 2015

District 05 Highway Log 2002 (Unfortunately this is the latest)

What is a Postmile Marker?

Steve Cadenasso

District 05 TASAS Coordinator

1-805-549-3057

Steve_Cadenasso@dot.ca.gov
