

CLEAN CALIFORNIA

Eureka Cabinet Art

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The Eureka Utility Box Art project will enhance U.S. Highway 101 in an underserved, low-income community through the addition of public art on existing and newly installed Caltrans utility boxes. This project:

- Adds locally produced art to six new Caltrans utility boxes.
- Updates and protects existing public art on 28 Caltrans utility boxes.

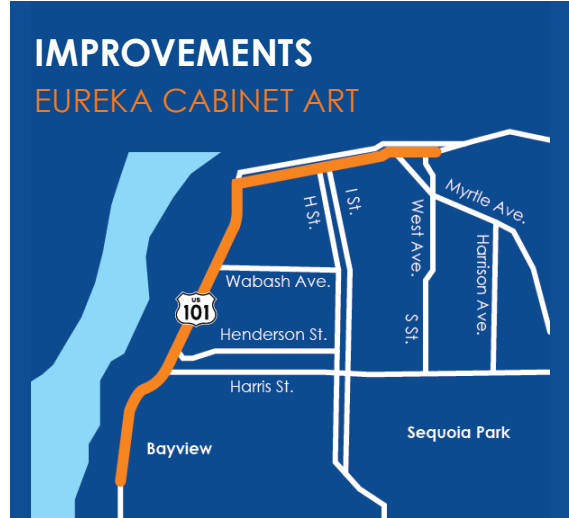

The City of Eureka is renowned for its arts community. Local artists will have the opportunity to refresh their existing artwork and/or be considered for new projects while being compensated for their time.

Public art benefits the community by reducing graffiti, beautifying roadsides, and helping to define the art-appreciating character of Eureka. U.S. 101 is the main thoroughfare through the City of Eureka and is frequently traveled by locals, vacationers, and commercial vehicles.

The Eureka Utility Box Art Project is a partnership between Caltrans, the City of Eureka, The Ink People, and the California Center for the Arts.
