IN RECENT NEWS:

Last week, crews made significant progress while working through the holiday period to advance repairs at Regent's Slide.

Excavation productivity has increased, as the expanded bench now accommodates three conventional excavators and a bulldozer. This setup allows crews to remove material more efficiently and continue moving down the slope.

Despite several weather-related delays in November, the outlook has improved. Forecasts indicate favorable conditions for the first half of December, providing an important opportunity to maintain momentum on this emergency project.
