Q. What specify how the information will be collected to meet the scope of services such as working directly with individuals, in-person or virtual meetings, and/or in-person or virtual workshops?

A. Answered by Sam Akkad – Usually it's by task order. Whatever the task order instructed to do we are going to follow the deliverables on it. It's not going to be a blanket for everything. Whatever the task order requires it's going to be specific to that job.

Q. Can you please clarify what type of structures will be included in this contract besides the ancillary structures mentioned in the scope description?

A. Answered by Joel Magana – This contract is not limited to ancillary structures. It's involving pretty much every type of structures. It could be bridges, it could be earth retain systems, or it could be culverts. Everything that DES deals with in terms of design except for buildings. This type of contract is not intended for buildings.

Q. These functions traditionally have been a part of internal functions. How has it worked in the round with TYLin?

A. Answered by Sam Akkad – If you are referring to the previous contract that we had with TYLin, this is a much bigger contract.
